I don't like Reggae, Oh no! I love it!

The one time bon vivant and debonair Henry Masters reluctantly agreed to be interviewed by R&RRH. Masters recently returned to the United States from a "working vacation" at an undisclosed island hideaway. He stated he was on a "fact finding mission" and expressed surprise and unbridled enthusiasm "that hemp is still grown in large quantities there." Speculation has existed for months that R&RRH is searching for venture capital to finance a new subsidiary corporation which ostensibly will compete in the Jamacian Rope industry. Masters who has not been in California in recent years said he was sorry that he was unable to meet with the "King" Hogelen but "Its good to know the King still rules!" Masters adheres to a tightly controlled schedule and said he "ski's in the winter and plays golf in the summer." He poo poed remarks about having a 5 handicap and blithely stated "I drive for show and put for dough." His current plans include vacationing at Flaming Gorge at Lake Powell with Charter Member J. Meehan and his beautiful wife Virginia and their entourage Sharpie, Heimer and "Hopefully O.D. McGee." The ever popular and handsome Masters said "he expected to have pictures for R&RRH when he returned from the coming vacation." When queried about rumors that R&RRH was moving into the rope business he stated "you can do lots of neat stuff with rope!"

Huge Success

Statistics literally "blew off the charts" in response to R&RRH's first issue of the Gazette claimed Communications Director Mark Willoughby as he was about to go to press with the next issue. "This is hot stuff, the folks out there can't wait for the next one." He said letters and pictures deluged his desk when the response came in. While he was pleased about the response he was reticent to reveal specifics about the return rate and the pictures. The following chart was excerpted from Fortune 500's mail-response data base.

New Kid on the Block...

R&RRH has appointed Dr. Doug Smith as the new staff psychiatrist. Smith, long time employee of the Sonoma Lasso Company, could not be reached for comment. He is widely recognized in the field for his 12 step programs and somewhat arcane but innovative work with rope and hemp products.

Shake Up...

Rumors continue to abound of a shake up in the R&RRH upper echelons. Although, no one could be reached at the Corporate Headquarters in Silicon Valley all evidence points to a brouhaha about to take place as members of the Board of Directors and Charter Members head for the secret 5000 acre enclave at Flaming Gorge. The so called fishing expedition appears to have all of the earmarks of a major power play between the movie star-handsome CEO Kent Ryan and Communications Director Mark Willoughby. As pieces of the sub-rosa mosaic take shape it appears that Ryan may have been interviewing and possibly recruiting financial whiz and country and western impresario O.D. McGee aka Dick Meehan. When reached at his Park City, Utah retreat Mr. McGee said "I know em' and they's both good ole boys." McGee has been rumored to be a silent partner and major share holder in the Utah Line and Rope Co.

Although none of the R&RRH Enterprises, Inc. Board of Directors could be reached for comment Executive Vice-President Terry Selby was rumored to be heading up a new R&RRH subsidiary. While no specifics are currently available about the venture, R&RRH investigators said it looked as if Selby was going into the farming business. For the past two months an off shore holding company of R&RRH Enterprises, Inc. under Selby's direction began appraising vast amounts of rich farm land in the Yucatan Peninsula, Michuacan and Jamaica. The company has recently been seeking venture capital for a highly secretive new project. Simultaneously on another front, Comptroller and Executive Treasurer Chuck Williams was rumored to be actively wining and dining NORML executives. Williams, financial wizard for R&RRH, would only say "politics is a way of life!" and "our company has always been on the cutting edge and will continue to lead the way into the 21st century."

Reviews Ice Cube's

Today was a Good Day

There is a certain poetic justice to the interplay of his lyrics, a spiritual mixture of dark and light and I like his haircut.

With a bullet and moving up in the charts is Ice Cube's new track.

Album: Predator

Artist: Ice Cube

Title Track: Today was a good day

I gotta go cause I got me a drop top, and if I hit the switch I can make the ass drop, had to stop at a red light... lookin' in my mirror, not a jacker in sight, I got a beep from Kim and she can do it all night... called up my homies and I'm maxin' which park are y'all playin' basket-ball... get me on the court and I'm trouble... last week I messed around and got a triple double, freakin' brothers every way... like MJ I gotta say... today was a good day... I didn't have to use my AK

Today was a good day
